Laurel - It certainly been fun this year. Although we have only met this year, I can tell, its going to last.

Happy Birthday,
Happy Graduation,

Miss Marion O'Connor

Dedication

In 1946 the Arista staff dedicated the yearbook to Miss Marion O'Connor in recognition of her work as a first-rate teacher of English and enthusiastic director of Junior Players. This year we again dedicate Arista to her in appreciation of her thirty-two years of devoted service to Great Neck North.

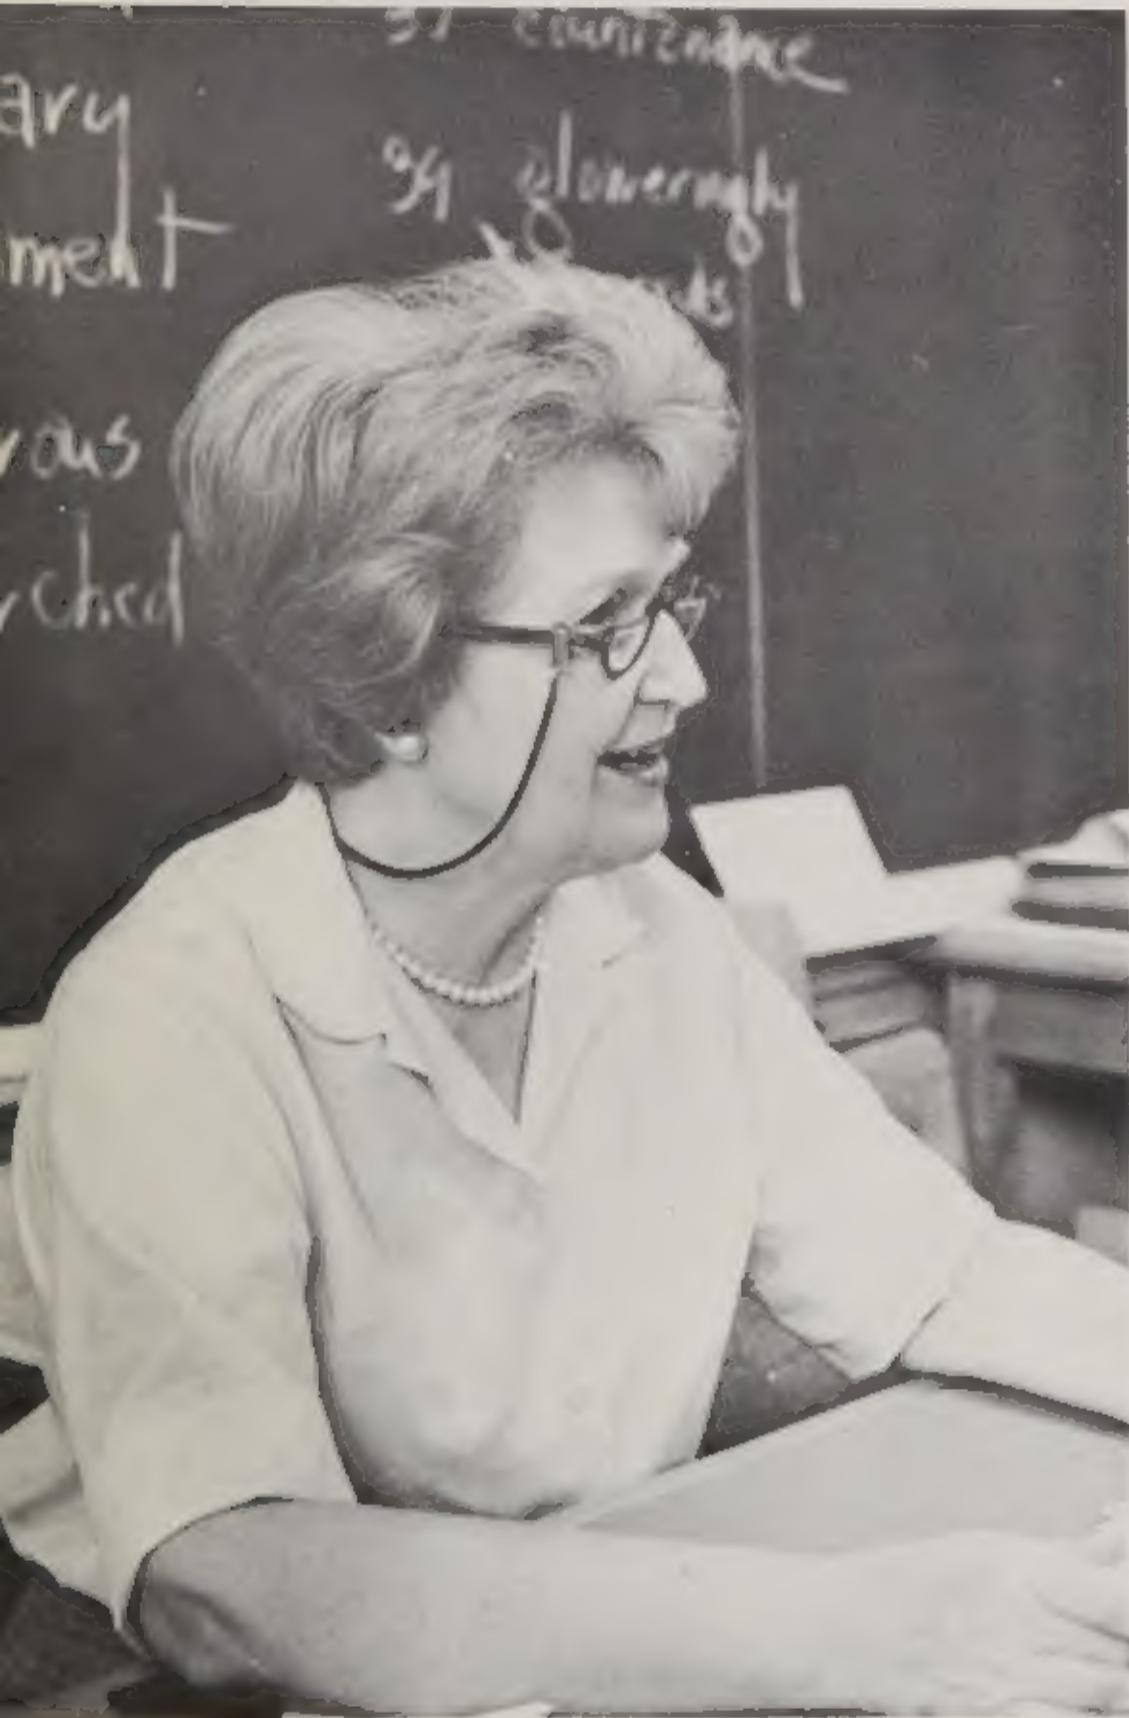

A New Yorker by birth, Miss O'Connor has also lived in the state most of her life. She attended an experimental high school in Albany, where she was taught by students of the New York State College for Teachers. Their influence on her was apparent, for it left little doubt that she, too, would enjoy teaching. As a student at the same college, she specialized in English, library science, drama, and social studies. She continued her education at Middlebury College where she earned her Masters Degree in English. While there, she met a number of noted American writers including Robert Frost. In 1935, after nine years of teaching experience, she moved to Great Neck.

Miss O'Connor has always had a wide range of interests. She enjoys reading all forms of literature—from essays to novels, or from a Shakespeare play to a mystery story. Her second great interest is music. She has combined her love of singing with drama to act in a number of operettas. Currently, she is secretary of the Great Neck Community Concert Association and is an energetic member of her church choir. In the past, Miss O'Connor has been an active mountain climber and horseback rider, as well as an avid world traveler. She has toured extensively in Europe and has also visited Asia and Hawaii. While in Hawaii, she took time to learn the hula and now enjoys dancing at Class of '67 functions. After retirement, she plans to visit Australia and New Zealand to enjoy the sheer beauty of the lands. Her only other definite goal for the future is to sleep as late as possible every day.

In her forty-one years in the teaching profession, Miss O'Connor has never regretted her decision to teach. She believes the role of the teacher is only to guide the student—the student must do the rest. "My greatest thrill is watching a student discover the answer by himself." She considers herself exacting, but is satisfied when a student works to the best of his ability and takes pride in what he has accomplished. She feels that the problem with students today is that they are under too much pressure from their parents and the community to do well scholastically. This often creates a situation in which the student is interested in grades rather than knowledge.

Our school bids a fond farewell to Miss O'Connor, whose cheery sense of humor and deep concern for students have brightened North Senior for so many years. Teachers and students alike will miss her "Good morning, this morning!"

FERN HILL

By Dylan Thomas

Now as I was young and easy under the apple boughs
About the lilting house and happy as the grass was green,
The night above the dingle starry,
Time let me hail and climb
Golden in the heydays of his eyes,
And honoured among wagons I was prince of the apple towns
And once below a time I lordly had the trees and leaves
Trail with daisies and barley
Down the rivers of the windfall light.

And as I was green and carefree, famous among the barns
About the happy yard and singing as the farm was home,
In the sun that is young once only,
Time let me play and be
Golden in the mercy of his means,
And green and golden I was huntsman and herdsman, the calves
Sang to my horn, the foxes on the hills barked clear and cold,
And the sabbath rang slowly
In the pebbles of the holy streams.

All the sun long it was running, it was lovely, the hay
Fields high as the house, the tunes from the chimneys, it was air
And playing, lovely and watery
And fire green as grass.
And nightly under the simple stars
As I rode to sleep the owls were bearing the farm away,
All the moon long I heard, blessed among stables, the nightjars
Flying with the ricks, and the horses
Flashing into the dark.

And then to awake, and the farm, like a wanderer white
With the dew, come back, the cock on his shoulder: it was all Shining, it was Adam and maiden.

The sky gathered again
And the sun grew round that very day.
So it must have been after the birth of the simple light
In the first, spinning place, the spellbound horses walking warm
Out of the whinnying green stable
On to the fields of praise

And honoured among foxes and pheasants by the gay house
Under the new made clouds and happy as the heart was long
In the sun born over and over,
I ran my heedless ways.

My wishes raced through the house high hay
And nothing I cared, at my sky blue trades, that time allows
In all his tuneful turning so few and such morning songs
Before the children green and golden
Follow him out of grace.

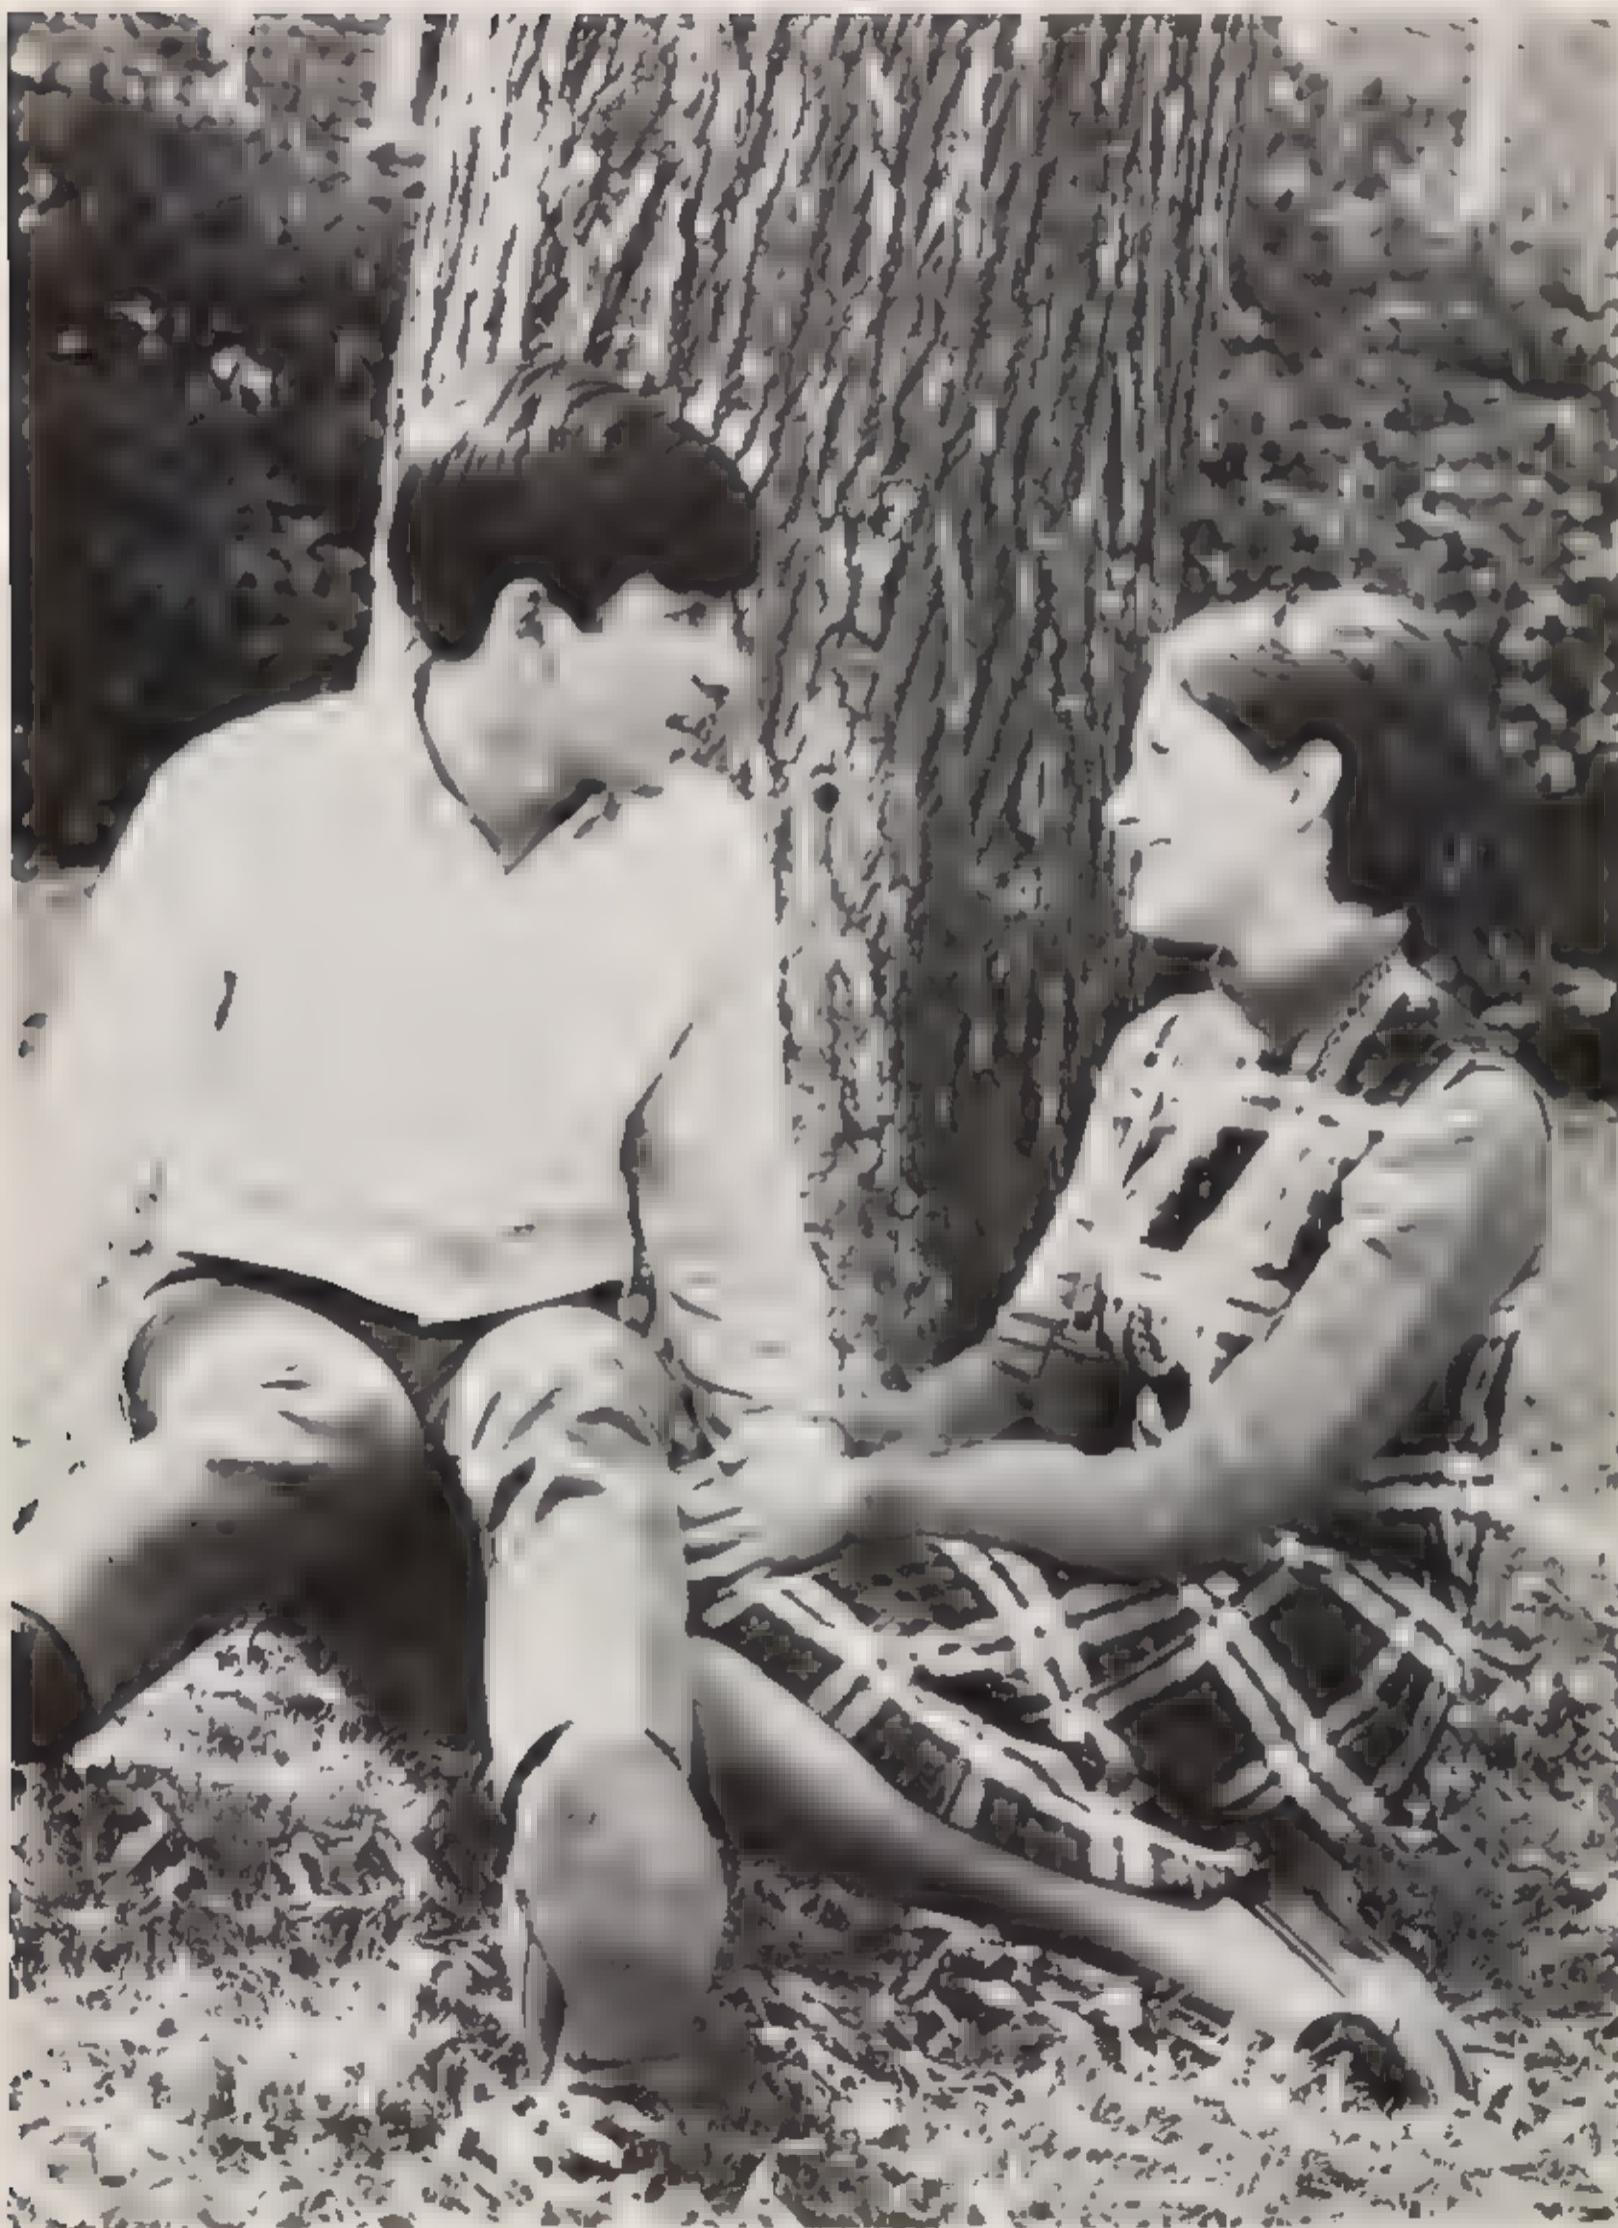

Nothing I cared, in the lamb white days, that time would take me
Up to the swallow thronged loft by the shadow of my hand.

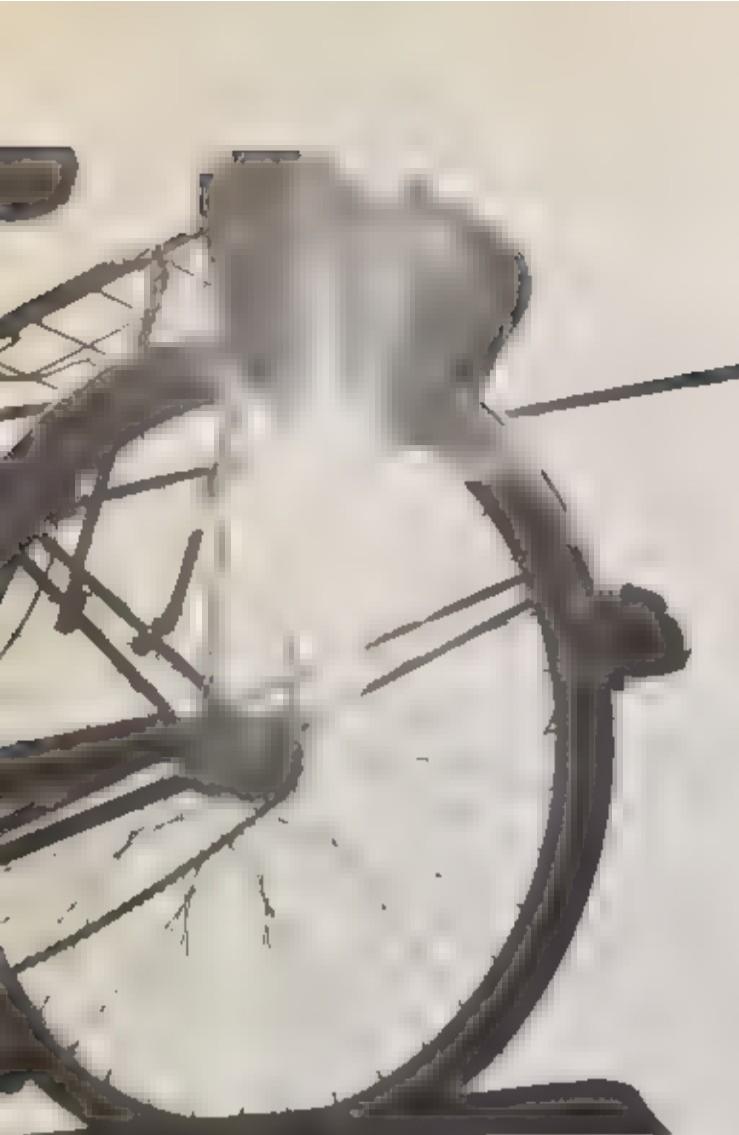

In the moon that is always rising,
Nor that riding to sleep
I should hear him fly with the high fields
And wake to the farm forever fled from the childless land.
Oh as I was young and easy in the mercy of his means.

Time held me green and dying
Though I sang in my chains like the sea.

To the Seniors

In my first days at North Senior your officers came to welcome me. They brought living violets which I proudly placed on a window sill so that they would continue to bloom.

Bloom they did just as did my knowledge of an increasing number of you while you studied each day in our fine school. As my knowledge of you grew, so did my admiration. Your academic and extracurricular leadership have been sources of considerable inspiration to me. Your friendliness and courtesy are clear indications of the interest your parents have taken in you and your education. Such interest is always a stimulation to those of us who share desires to assist in promoting the well-being of a future society.

As you first read this, memories of your days at North Senior will be fresh in your minds. I hope these are memories of happiness. I further hope that as the years go by and you renew your acquaintance with schooldays and schoolmates, through Arista, your pleasant memories will be just as strong. As you turn these pages in the future, may you be able to say with sincerity, "That's my high school, and I'm proud of it."

You have my most sincere wishes for continued success.

MR CROSBY E REDMAN

Head, English
Bowdoin, U. of Washington, Columbia,
U of Maine, U of Colorado, N Y U

SALUTE

We salute Mr Crosby E. Redman, who is retiring after nineteen years as the venerable head of our English Department. He is completing a distinguished teaching career that has spanned forty-five years in Great Neck and across the country.

After his undergraduate work at Bowdoin, Mr Redman started his career in his native Maine. In Castine he taught five different subjects and served as principal of the three-room high school for two years. Then he continued his graduate work and earned his Masters in English. His gradual cross-country trek included teaching English at New Mexico Military Institute, Lakeside School in Seattle, and Haverford School in Pennsylvania.

In 1948 Mr Redman came to Great Neck as English chairman. Here he has taught practically all the department's courses. He has supervised various revisions in the English curriculum, and each time his emphasis has been on comprehensive material to provide students with a sound background in literature and composition. Several times he served as principal of the System summer school. In addition, he has edited a short story collection and two drama anthologies, all widely used as high school texts.

Outside the classroom Mr Redman is an insatiable reader. Recently he reread the vast output of James and Faulkner. He also likes gardening and spends many hours weeding the lawn and watering his begonias. His faculty friends will testify that he also grows delicious grapes.

Although Mr Redman regrets leaving teaching, he welcomes the forthcoming free time. He and Mrs Redman plan to see more of their daughters (one a writer, the other a radiologist), to visit Europe again, and then to settle in their new Maine home overlooking Penobscot Bay. There he will "raise dogs and flowers" and carry on his war against the weeds.

Mr Redman is proud of his students. "As I think about our graduates, I am heartened that they are doing so well after they leave us." This industrious, august gentleman—with his sharp mind, firm idealism, Yankee humor, dashing pocket handkerchiefs—has indeed been an impressive figure at North Senior. And his many students acknowledge and remember the vital part Mr Redman has played in their success.

RECOGNITION

Over 4,000 students can testify to the superior teaching of Miss Christine Makuen, who has just completed her forty-fifth year of teaching. Countless other students have been affected by her work during her long tenure (since 1931) as head of Great Neck North's math department. This influence and admiration are also reflected in the feelings of the entire faculty, for this year G N T A nominated Miss Makuen for the N Y State Teacher-of-the-Year Award.

Surprisingly, Miss Makuen began her career as a history teacher in the Ossining schools after completing a Syracuse M.A. in that subject. In 1925 she came to Arrandale school, took another Masters in math at Columbia, and moved to the high school when it was built in 1929. Here she has remained, holding the best attendance record in the System—fewer than ten days absent in all these years. Recently she described teachers with such long service records as WOGS ("We old gals stuck")!

Certainly Miss Makuen has demonstrated stick-to-it-iveness. But more than that, she is our ideal of the dedicated teacher. She is an understanding, gentle lady—open and sincere, always willing and able to help others. And her wry sense of humor is much admired. Her advice to students and teachers is "Have enthusiasm for whatever you do; enjoy the subject you are taking or teaching." Also, she expects herself and others to live up to the best in them. Her positive attitude toward educational advancements has always been evident; for example, she has nurtured and encouraged the new math program since 1948.

Outside school Miss Makuen raises flowers all year round, reads a great deal, goes to many plays and movies (always followed by vanilla ice cream and chocolate cake at Shrafft's). She maintains a century-old family home full of antiques and heirlooms at Goshen, where she also enjoys driving her convertible "with the top down."

We all wish Miss Makuen—our perennially young blithe spirit—many more years of happiness. We also thank her for being our Miss Makuen.

The 1967 ARISTA is a reflection of the artistic and original tastes of its entire staff. The book started with a new publisher (American Yearbook Company), a new editor, an idea and a poem. The poem, which sets the mood and theme of the book, is "Fern Hill" by Dylan Thomas. It is a nostalgic poem imparting the innocence, happiness and beauty of the poet's childhood and, indeed, all childhood. The theme of Arista, derived from the poem, is the departure from youth and entrance into the adult world. When we look back on this yearbook fifteen or twenty years from now, we will undoubtedly realize that in our high school days, as Thomas says, "Time held us green and dying though we sang in our chains like the sea."

A major innovation in this year's ARISTA is the twelve-page photographic essay assembled from various scenes in and around our school. The scenes and the people in the photographic essay are familiar to most of us, for they concern subjects we have known through our years at Great Neck North. The essay develops the theme of youth in all its happiness and carefree emotion. The few lines from the poem which are repeated in the essay tie in with the subject matter of the photographs.

On the cover and division pages of the '67 book, Barbara Brody has designed a hon derived from our class ring and the school insignia. The hon itself is Arista's symbol of dignity and strength, courage and leadership, qualities which our years at Great Neck North have hopefully instilled in us.

This year's Senior Section is an attempt to make it more creative and exciting than in years past. The work of the advertising and sales staff, under Bob Grossman and Bob Levande, enabled us to use more color throughout this book than ever before.

GENERAL ORGANIZATION

"and furthermore, no more starch in my Ban-lon shirts!" President Ira Mitchell dictates to secretary Karen Litwack

The General Organization of 1966-67 was one of initiative, innovation, and revitalization. The goal of this year's G.O. was to re-establish it as the most important organization in the school and to bring varied activities and broad benefits to every student. In all, the year proved that the G.O. can be an organization of action and not just words.

The General Organization tried out many new ideas this year. Among them was the initiation of a film festival, otherwise known as "Thursday Night at the G.O. Movies." It began on January 5 with the showing of The Guns of Navarone. Approximately 500 students came to watch the thrilling exploits of Gregory Peck, Anthony Quinn, and David Niven. This successful event was followed with the showing of The Spy Who Came in from the Cold.

Next, the G.O. sponsored a literary magazine, Epiphany, for the first time in Great Neck North's history. It contained short stories, poetry, essays on current thought, and art. The purpose of Epiphany was to establish a tradition of literary accomplishment of which our school can be proud.

Two new clubs and committees were chartered by the G.O. Future Physicians of America and the Contemporary Profiles Committee. The latter was instrumental in bringing controversial and informative speakers to our school. The auditorium was packed when Congressman Lester Wolff and former Congressman Steven Derounian came to debate. This event climaxed a year which saw much student participation in the November elections. On December 7 the Contemporary Profiles Committee sponsored a program featuring Mr. N. N. Talonov, First Secretary of the Soviet Mission to the United Nations.

This year the G.O. created a Pep Club whose eventual goal is to insure large turnouts at interschool games and inspire the continuing development of pride in our school. Though it was basically an organizational year for Pep Club North, its accomplishments were impressive. It arranged a number of extremely successful pep rallies and sponsored "sock" dances after a few of the Friday night basketball games. The club had a membership of about 300 spirited students.

Working with the P.T.A., the General Organization planned two excellent theatre trips. The first, held on January 14, was a trip to the A.P.A. Phoenix Production of Sheridan's School for Scandal. The second trip took place on an evening during the February vacation. The play was the winner of the N.Y. Critics' Award and the Tony Award as the best musical of 1967—Man of La Mancha.

The traditional G.O. dances and picnic were well attended and enjoyed by the students. The February dance was characterized by the serving of pizza. The G.O. also held a State of the G.O. Assembly in February in which the accomplishments of the year were reviewed and the plans for the remainder of the year discussed.

When the sophomore class had difficulty in carrying on their class elections, the General Organization stepped in and straightened out the somewhat questionable results through the use of an official voting machine. This event was significant for two reasons. First, it was an example of how the G.O. had the right and the duty to help any organization in solving problems. Second, for first time a voting machine was used in a class election. As a result, the G.O. obtained free a voting machine from the Nassau County Board of Elections. This machine will be used in future G.O. elections, class elections, and student referendum.

Great Neck North's new constitution has been called a "Great Leap Forward." Before the ratification of the new constitution, the only rights that a member of the student body had were to elect his social studies class representative and to cast his ballot each spring in the election of the next year's G.O. officers. This year, however, the new constitution brought a revolutionary shift in student government power. The real power moved into the hands of all the students. As a result, each and every student had a hand in deciding on the important and controversial issues of the year. For instance, for the first time the school's budget was voted on by all the students, as were the apportionment to Gude Post and Epiphany.

There were a number of important changes in the constitution. For one, all money matters over $150 were brought back to the students for approval or rejection. Second, if it was clear that a proposal in Legislative Assembly would be passed by only a few votes, 40% of the representatives could ask that the matter be brought back to the social studies classes for a decision. More significant, though, was the fact that the students may call for a referendum which can override a decision of the Assembly. In addition, the new constitution provided for an impeachment procedure which is strict enough to prevent any joker from starting an action toward impeachment, while at the same time, is workable enough so that if an officer abuses his powers or acts in a fashion which is detrimental to the G.O., he can be removed from office. Last, the new constitution makes it mandatory that each candidate for G.O. office introduce himself, present his ideas and defend them at an assembly before the elections. In this way, students can exercise their voting power more intelligently on the basis of a candidate's ideas and not only his speech.

Rawh! Rawh! Rawh!

The General Organization of 1966-67 under Mr. Lincoln's sponsorship will be remembered as an active and productive one. It has initiated and instituted many changes that have affected and will continue to affect the school, the students, and future administrations of the G O

Business managers Bob Levande and Bob Grossman look serious (for once).

GUIDE POST

Once again Guide Post upheld its standards and popularity among the students at Great Neck North. Led by Stuart Walton, Guide Post allotted more space to G.O., club news and local topics than in the past. In this way the newspaper fulfilled its major function of being informative to the student body.

Most significant was the Guide Post editorials which urged revisions of Great Neck's health curriculum and changes in the G.O. In an editorial, Sue Teicher, examined the present health curriculum; in a feature article, Peter Berck and Penny Sablove encouraged adherence to G.O. procedural rules.

The health editorials led to a Guide Post survey taken in January on drug addiction. This survey, filled out by all Great Neck High school students, attempted to establish concrete facts about Great Neck students' reactions to the narcotics problem. The results, which also included teachers' comments, were cited in several newspapers, most notably the New York Times.

In retrospect, Guide Post has this year, even more evidently than in the past, provided an outstanding forum in which Great Neck North students might best express their views.

JUNIOR PLAYERS

Junior Players members worked this year towards new ideas, new goals, and new accomplishments. Beginning with the selection of the fall production, a new committee was formed, headed by Vice-President Nancy Harrison. The Play Reading Committee discussed the pros and cons of numerous plays before deciding on what has been Junior Player's most challenging production in years, "Six Characters in Search of an Author."

A new exchange program between Theatre South and Junior Players was established this year in which Theatre South came to North with a production of Ionesco's "The Bald Soprano" and Junior Players presented a part of "Six Characters in Search of an Author." This was the beginning of what both clubs hope will be a profitable and enjoyable exchange.

The children's play, "Toad of Toad Hall" by A. A. Milne, was presented twice at the North Junior High School and for the first time, Junior Players gave a performance at the North Shore Hospital. Based on the book "The Wind in the Willows" by Kenneth Graham, "Toad of Toad Hall" is about a toad who gets himself involved in some ridiculous escapades involving a motor-car. He is rescued by his friends the Badger, Ratty, and Mole. The play was a complete success with both hospital and Great Neck school children. Wendy Salkind was the student director and the main characters were played by Ian Barondess, Donald Kuhnsch, Eric Brown, and Stewart Lane. Marjorie Howard demonstrated the hidden talents of club members with the composition of original music to lyrics provided in the script.

Junior Players ended the year with the induction of Neophytes (new members) into Thespians, the National Dramatic Honor Society. The group had consisted of five members at the beginning of the year: Cathy Bernard, Judy Gershman, Marjorie Howard, Barbara Sussman, and Janice Udell.

JUNIOR PLAYERS FALL PRODUCTION

SIX CHARACTERS IN SEARCH OF AN AUTHOR

With Luigi Pirandello's Six Characters in Search of an Author, Junior Players continued its tradition of serious, ambitious fall productions.

Six Characters was a timely selection; avant-garde when it was written in 1921, it is still refreshingly unusual today, and has much in common with the present-day "theatre of the absurd." Exploring the meaning of reality and the role of art, this is a play of ideas, and Junior Players handled these ideas intelligently. The stimulating production challenged the audience to pay close attention to the dialogue in order to cope with a perplexing philosophy of paradox and illusion.

The play concerns a sudden confrontation between the world of the theater (that is, a world of illusions) and the super-real products of an author's imagination. Having been abandoned by their creator, six characters appear before the director of a small theatre troupe, in hopes that he will provide the play for which they were destined.

At first, these six seem unreal; their image is decidedly more impressionistic than that of the "real-life" theatre people. But as the characters act out the scenes of their poignant drama, they explain how it is that they are more real than human beings are. "Ours is an immutable reality," one of them tells the director, "which should make you shudder when you approach us . . . Your reality is a mere transitory and fleeting illusion, taking this form today and that tomorrow."

The Characters were played by Max Ember (the Father), Katy Dierlam (the Mother), Wendy Salkind (the Step-daughter), Barry Koron (the Son), Donald Kollusch (the Boy), eight-year-old Alice Kaltman, and Laurel Randall (Madame Pace).

Ricky Kurnit played the Manager; Joan Susswein, the Leading Lady; and Ronald Unger, the Leading Man. Other Actors of the Company were Nancy Harrison, Barbara Barna, Steve Lesk, Robin Ballin, Diane Opperman, Amy Rosenberg, Stuart Lane, Lisa Weinberg, Gary Tarshis, Steve Rosenberg, and Glenn Super.

Mr. Raymond Olsen, the director, was assisted by production manager Barbara Sussman and student director Judith Gershman.

J. P. SPRING PRODUCTION

In the Spring of 1967, Junior Players were called upon to present a play equal in quality (if not better!) to the theatrical success of the fall play. It took long work, but it paid off when Junior Players happily discovered a play with all desired qualities, Mary, Mary by Jean Kerr.

As one of the longest playing shows on Broadway a few years ago, Mary, Mary had indeed proved its quality as a comedy and it provided a clear difference from the highly dramatic Six Characters in Search of an Author.

The story line of Mary, Mary revolves around the problems of Bob, who realizes that he still loves his kooky ex-wife, Mary, two weeks before he plans to remarry. The interplay of characters in this unusual situation naturally provides much laughter.

The comedy was directed by Mr. Olsen. The student director was Barbara Sussman. The cast included Barry Koren as Bob and Judy Gershman as Mary. Also in the cast were Alec Roberts, Amy Chasin, and Eric Brown. Because of the unusually small cast of only five students, Junior Players' many members took part in building the stage, painting scenery, and selling tickets, as well as many other pertinent production jobs.

All in all, Junior Players' season was highly successful and, quite happily, more mature this year by presenting something more than merely a 'high school play.'

What a revolting development this turned out to be.

HUMAN RELATIONS

Activities of the Human Relations Club are planned according to the belief that education can play a significant role in illuminating many of the problems of economic and social inequality that we face today. The club is concerned with aiding the education of others through programs of community service, as well as with self-education by means of films, guest speakers, and group discussions.

This year the Human Relations Club continued to operate a tutorial program for children of elementary school age at the A.M.E. Zion Church on Steamboat Road. The program was organized on a one-to-one basis so that children, in addition to receiving homework help, were able to develop personal relationships with the student tutors. In addition, volunteers from the club worked as aids in two cultural programs for children run by the Office of Economic Opportunity, the Cumberland School Project and the Manhasset Valley Community Service Center. Volunteers helped to organize and teach sports activities and classes in dance, music, arts and crafts, sewing, and drama.

The single most important project of the year was a student exchange project in which thirty-five students from Brandeis High School in New York City spent a weekend at the homes of host families in Great Neck. Our students later completed the exchange with a visit to Brandeis High. The project was designed to give students of entirely different racial and economic backgrounds an opportunity to meet and discuss topics of contemporary significance. The weekend proved to be a valuable innovation in the field of human relations in our school.

ATHLETICS

North star Steve Davidson makes a gallant run against New Hyde Park

FOOTBALL

Since 1966 was the year of professional football's "Super Bowl" and college football's "game of the century," it was appropriate that the Great Neck North Varsity football team completed its best season in over a decade. The nation's eyes may have been focused on the Packers, Michigan State and Notre Dame, but Blazer fans saw their team finish the year in first place in Long Island's Division Two, the toughest league on the North Shore.

If the Blazers played all season long the way they did in the opener against Farmingdale, many more televisions in Great Neck would have been tuned to the college game of the week. North fumbled seven times and handed the Dalers a 21-14 victory. Led by fullback Jerry Winsky, the Blazers were able to set up several long drives, but lost the ball before they could score. The defensive team kept the score close and late in the fourth quarter North tied the score 14 all on an end sweep by Winsky. The Dalers were not to be defeated, however, and the Farmingdale halfback Messia returned the Blazer kickoff for a touchdown.

Perhaps the greatest asset the varsity had this season was their ability to rise to the occasion. Despite the way the team lost to Farmingdale they kept their spirit high and overwhelmed the Highlanders from Herricks 32-6. The momentum the Blazers picked up with this win proved enough to carry them through the season.

New Hyde Park, the wheelchair shiz kids, were a pleasant diversion from the otherwise strenuous schedule. Both the offensive and defensive lines excelled and the Blazers gave the hapless eleven a sound 41-0 thrashing. Leading the way for North was Steve Davison with two touchdowns; joining in the festivities were Winsky, Dave Paley, Gary Jacob and Ricky Etra, on a pass from Bob Sudy.

Steve Davidson breaking-off tackle for long gain as Ricky Etra clears way in New Hyde Park contest.

An explosive offense and concrete defense gave Coach Totura's Blazers a runaway victory over a stunned team from South. Leading 32-0 at the half, the reserves protected North's lead and scored two more touchdowns in the second half giving North a 45-13 win. Of particular value in the game was the superb blocking of Hank Zausner, Scott Imperator and Bob Beckerman.

Even before the season began, Mr. Totura knew the teams North would have to beat were Port Washington, Mineola, and Garden City. As luck would have it the Blazers would have to face them in a period of four weeks.

Both Port and North were up for their game, but the Blazers took immediate control of the situation. North took the opening kick-off and drove for a touchdown, scoring on a three yard dive by Gary Jacob. Port was unable to mount an offensive attack and the Blazers won 20-0. During the game Scott Imperator, the varsity captain, was injured and his services were lost for the remainder of the season. The consequences might have been disastrous were it not for the excellent play of junior Bob Motchkavitz, who filled in as guard.

North entered the Mineola game in first place and became the team to beat in the division. Once again the defense kept the Blazers on top when, with two minutes left in the game, Kenny Etra intercepted a Mustang pass and ran it back 50 yards for a touchdown which gave North a 19-13 victory.

Garden City, the Blazers' final opponent, was intent on defeating the North eleven. The varsity needed only a win or a tie to clinch the division title but a defeat would mean that the Trojans would share the honors. In the first quarter two touchdowns were nullified by clipping penalties. Kenny Etra took a Garden City punt and raced 80 yards down the sidelines for a touchdown. After the play was called back North was forced to punt and the Garden City receiver returned the kick 85 yards for an apparent touchdown. The play was called back on the penalty and the score remained 0-0. Both teams were hampered by the wet playing field and the offensive teams were forced to rely on short runs. North never threatened in the second and third quarters but Garden City drove deep into Blazer territory twice only to be stopped by missed field goals from inside the North 30 yard line.

Late in the fourth quarter Garden City had a first down on the Blazer seven yard line. The Trojans tried three successive running plays but the defense led by Jay Viders, Steve Smeja, and Ricky Etra held their ground. On fourth down and one yard to go for the touchdown, Kenny Etra blocked an attempted pass and North took possession of the ball. The Blazers ran out the clock and the tie gave North its first North Shore Division Two title since 1941.

SOCER

At the beginning of the Great Neck North soccer season, hopes were running high that the Hammerheads would repeat last year's winning season and retain the Division Championship. Several key players had graduated but it appeared that their replacements would do an equally good job. There was much optimism before the season began despite the poor turnout for both the varsity and junior varsity squads. It was evident that there would be a lack of bench strength but Coach Liquori hoped that the starting eleven would remain healthy.

North won both of its pre-season scrimmages and it seemed that the Hammerheads would have a second division crown (no pun intended). In the first scrimmage Captains Mark Mutterperl and Ronnie Rowes scored goals giving the Hammerheads a 2-1 victory over Glen Cove. In the second game North exhibited more team play and beat North Shore 4-3.

After North had won its two scrimmages, Coach Liquori noticed that several players were overconfident about the team's performance; he was "... especially concerned with the attitude of some of the players which seems to indicate that because they won last year the team should perform as well this year, without effort." His apprehensions were not unfounded and as the season progressed this attitude became more evident.

The Hammerheads opened their season with a 1-0 loss to Herricks. There were several bright spots in the game, notably the strong defensive play of backs Barry Bockow, Roger Malman, Monte Lieberfarb, Captain Bob Hoffman and the excellent goal tending of junior Sheldon Shalom. There was also a dark cloud over the game. The field was wet and the adverse weather conditions were blamed for the loss. After the game, North players called themselves a poor wet weather team, sunshine scorers, but they couldn't win under clear skies either.

Two highlights of the season were the successive victories over Clarke and Garden City high schools. Against Clarke, Jon Avnet's goal late in the game proved to be the winning margin as the North booters won 1-0. The Hammerheads kept their momentum and upset Garden City 1-0 in the second overtime period. The defense, led by goalie Bob Schacter and backs Gil Gevins and Bob Zutty, excelled in this game.

North's third win was one of the few games in which the offense and defense worked well together. The forward line passed the ball well with Jeff Schott, Robbie Yohai, and Bob Hoffman leading the attack. The defense paced by Avnet, Zutty, and junior Pete Cavrell held Mineola to only one goal and the Hammerheads won 2-1.

The soccer team's season ended in the same manner as it began; North lost to Port Washington 1-0. The defense played well this game but the offense was unable to initiate any formidable attack. This lack of scoring punch was a major cause of North's slide from division leader to loser.

TENNIS

It appears that the county championship cup in tennis liked its home in the trophy case outside the boys' gym, for it decided to stay for a third year. Of course the fine playing of team members, and the experienced coaching of Mr. Fred Lewis, did influence its decision somewhat. North's final win of 4-1 over Oceanside was the victory that renewed the space in our trophy case.

All four singles players contributed greatly to North's success this season. Both Ricky November and Larry Parson completed the season without a single loss. Lyn Hoffman and Steve Schiff also had outstanding records. Much credit is due, too, to the doubles players who were instrumental in key wins.

The most exciting match was against our traditional rival, Great Neck South, for the North Shore championship. At one point in the match, with the score standing at three matches to zero, South needed only one more match to win. Under this unusually high tension, North's raqueteers made their greatest comeback. Dan Katz and Paul Gorde won their doubles match, while November and Parson each won his respective match. The clincher came when Lynn Hoffman, having lost the first set, pulled through to win the next two sets and the match.

Although North is losing four good players in graduating seniors November, Parson, Hoffman, and Peter Jablon, many returning lettermen keep the prospects high for next year.

CROSS-COUNTRY

Cross-country is one of the only sports in which a team tries not to gain points. In past seasons it appeared as if North's runners were not aware of this fact. Midway through 1966, however, this oddity was pointed out to the Harriers, who went on to win three meets in a row, finishing with a 3-4 record. The team was led by returning Captain Ricky Kaplan, Dave Goldman, Dave Fontenella, George Horsky, and freshman Gary Goldman.

North's first victory came in a triangular meet against Great Neck South and Mineola. Led by Fontenella and Gary Goldman, the Harriers defeated Mineola, but lost to a strong team from South. Port Washington was the next team to be defeated by North's inspired runners. Seniors Kaplan and Goldman, both of whom had poor showings in earlier meets, ran well. The final victory for the Harriers came at the expense of Oyster Bay. This win was especially significant as it marked the first time that North had ever shut out its amazed opponent.

Much credit for North's fine performance in cross-country this year also goes to seniors Victor Parker, Mark Kommel, and Andy Yusen. All the team members spent many hours training for the meets, running several miles a day, and doing endless calisthenics. This preparation, as proven by the last few meets, left them in top physical and mental condition.

Basketball

North started off the basketball season with high hopes based on Coach Morrison and on the five first string experienced players: Captain Kenny Etra, Ricky Etra, Mark Mutterperl, Bob Schacter and Cal Tannenbaum. Confidence was also placed in Harvey Sanders, who played well on junior varsity last year.

The first game was against Roslyn, one of the highest-ranked teams in the county. North played well and was disappointed at losing the game, 58-57. Scoring was led by Schacter and the Ettras who made 48 points.

The Division Avenue game marked the first victory for the Blazers. It was a close, tight game. Division Avenue shot well, and Great Neck had some trouble until the final surge in the fourth quarter. The game ended with a score of 61-50.

In the Christmas Tournament, North played first against Wantagh and then against Massapequa. Wantagh proved to be too good a team for the Blazers to catch. With many outstanding players, Wantagh took a big lead in the beginning. North found themselves playing desperation basketball at the end of the game, but without success. The final score was 63-45. But North made up for this loss with a 67-46 victory over Massapequa. Although Massapequa was considered a good team, North started strong and kept on going. Both Kenny Etra and Cal Tannenbaum played good games, scoring 24 and 17 points respectively.

Port Washington was North's first league game. It was an impressive North victory, with a score of 87-49. Port was only in the game for the first two minutes; after that, North took over. The Ettras set the pace for our fast team, and North completely beat Port down the court. Schacter played especially well; he kept getting the rebounds and, as Port Washington coach said, "He killed us!"

So far, the season has turned up three easy wins. They were against Farmingdale (73-40), Mineola (87-44), Bethpage (78-31). In all three games, North's starters only played the first half. The second string players, juniors Barry Krauss, Sheldon Shalom, and sophomores Rick Ceasar, Phil Hankinson and Jerry Williams took over from there. In the last two games, every player on the team was able to score.

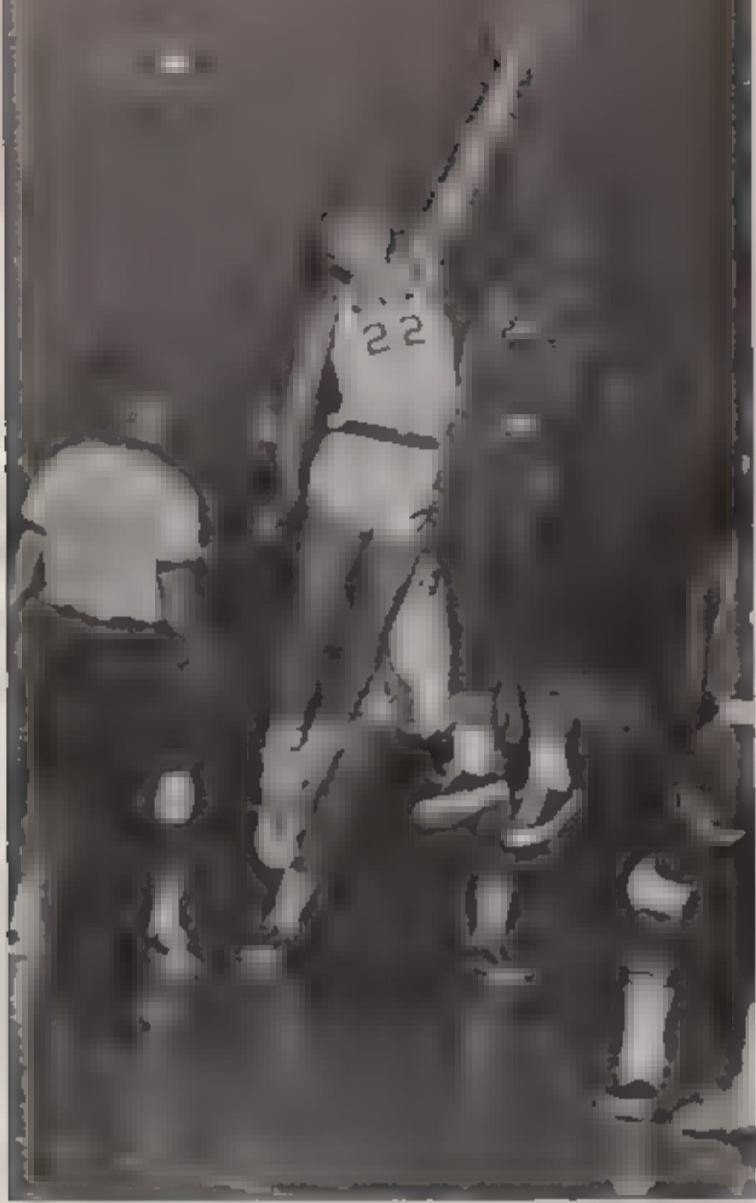

The Herricks game proved to be one of the most exciting of the season. Herricks started off strongly; out rebounding North in the first half. Towards the end of the first half, North came to life and the game from then on was very close. It ended in a 59-59 tie score and the game went into overtime. The excitement was especially high, but North managed a 64-62 victory. Sanders deserves much credit for two foul shots under great pressure that put North ahead by two points.

South of course was the big game of the season. It, too, was a close game, but South's big players out-rebounded North and won, 50-44. Neither team played up to caliber under the great pressure, but South shot a little better than North and that made all the difference. The game put South first in the league, 5-0, while North stands second, 4-1.

At the time this article was written, 7 out of the 12 league games remained to be played. North should beat Garden City, Mineola, Bethpage and Herricks if we play up to par. The next game against Port Washington is expected to be much tougher since Port played unusually poorly last time.

The next game with South could very well decide the league championship. Hopes are high that North will play up to their level and bring home a victory.

WRESTLING

At the beginning of the wrestling season, many fans were optimistic about the chances of the matmen finishing high in the league standings. Mr. Ed Slater, replacing interim coach Don Benjamin, had several returning letterman and a talented group of sophomores, and the morale of the team was high.

It appeared that Coach Slater's cautious optimism was well-founded as the matmen swept their first three matches with decisive victories over Plainview, Manhas- set, and Floral Park. Outstanding performances in these meets were turned in by Josh Child, Ed Lore, Albert Kogel, and Steve Lollo.

After North's fine start it seemed that pre-season hopes were now turning into reality. A strong team from Glen Cove, however, was determined to send the Matmen to their first defeat. North's wrestlers fought well but dropped the match 26 to 21. The matmen also met defeat in the Christmas tournament where they finished eighth in an eight-team meet. North's two leading wrestlers, Child and Lollo, had fine tournament records and took second and first places respectively in their weight classes.

The poor showing in the Christmas meet affected the matmen's performances for the rest of the season. The team dropped close meets to Locust Valley and Roslyn High School, but showings by sophomores Edwin Lore and Josh Child offered encouragement for later matches.

Great Neck South proved to be North's toughest opponent. The Rebels came to the meet with an excellent record, but the matmen were determined to pull an upset. Child won the opening match for North but South's su- periority was evident as they went on to win the meet 38-8. Lollo and Bockow also performed well in North's losing effort.

Although the prospects for next year's wrestling team appear to be good, Great Neck North will find it difficult to develop a truly strong team until wrestling is taught on the junior high school level.

SWIMMING

Prayer meet before swimming meet

In his first year coaching, Mr. Dennis Burden did a fine job with North's swim team this season

Outstanding performers throughout the season were Chuck Pearlman, Lyn Hoffman, and Monte Lieberfarb all swimming the freestyle events, and also Hank Pacht swimming the butterfly. Strong support came from Jon Avnet swimming the breast stroke. Contributing juniors were Mark Weintraub, swimming the sprints and the individual medley, Les Sylvan, swimming the freestyle, and Ricky Grant swimming the breast stroke. Upcoming sophomores include Dennis Krieger, Ben Ostrer, Neal Kon, Elias Legett, Mike Blum, Andy Seid, and Rob Ber-

The North-South meet was tied going into the final event, the four hundred freestyle relay. South, just barely winning the relay, clinched the meet.

A tough schedule, with two meets against both Plainview and West Islip, the Island's two top teams, accounted for North's mediocre record of 5-5. In addition, illness hit North's team quite hard, victimizing several of its key swimmers due to colds and viruses.

In the county championships, Pearlman, Hoffman, Lieberfarb, and Pacht did very well in their individual events. The four hundred freestyle relay, composed of Sylvan, Hoffman, Lieberfarb, and Pearlman, plus the medley relay, consisting of Grant, Ostrer, Pacht, and Lon, performed well.

BOWLING

Rip Van Winkle would never have fallen asleep had he played ten pins or bowled with Mr. Ring's Keglers. The Keglers were described as a "solid and consistent team" after defeating Port Washington (3-0) and Manhasset (2-1) in their first two games. As of February 1, the bowling team held an 11-10 record, with just three meets remaining. Glen Cove was uncontested in first place, but North, only one game behind Manhasset, had high hopes for second place.

Next year's team should also be very strong, as it is losing only three graduating seniors: Elliot Schnier, Jeff Shore, and Mike Schwartz. Remaining junior Jeff Diamond, high scorer for the team, is another reason for expectations of a successful season next year.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

Every September a new class of sophomores sits in the auditorium of Great Neck North. As each one peers anxiously for his name and homeroom to be flashed on the screen, he can't help but feel that at last he has "made the grade." He anticipates a year whirling with activities, sports, and social events, and rushes eagerly to join as many clubs as possible.

Once the excitement of high school dies down, however, the sophomore begins to long for the good old days at the bright, shiny junior high; he is overcome by the dark halls of the high school. He hears the comments of older and wiser upperclassmen, "Hey, where did all these scrawny things running around the building come from?" and "We were never that small when we were sophs." Then suddenly in about December, perhaps after he has grown (another inch or two) accustomed to groping his way around the halls, the soph finds he loves high school, he would not return to the good old screechy, hospital halls of the junior high for anything but a visit.

This year the sophomore class had their usual problems plus some aggravating difficulties with class elections, which had to be held three times before the officers were chosen. Once elected, however, the officers and class really went to work to make the year a success. A class dance was held after a week and a half of hurried preparations. As the turn-out was not overwhelming, the officers make plans to increase participation in class functions by reducing the price of class cards. A picnic was held in the latter half of the year and the hopes for a good turn-out were fulfilled.

Although the year was successful, sophomores look forward to next year when they can say, "Boy, do these midgets really belong in the high school?"

JUNIOR CLASS

JUNIOR CLASS COUNCIL R. Rosenblatt, A. Heyward, R. Chertoff, E. Tashman, L. Gurwin, J. Faberman, N. Dorfsky, L. Adler, R. Stone, H. Fleishman, A. Abrams, A. Crane, J. Covitz, K. Jenkins, D. Someck, D. Layton, D. Greene, J. Fryer, C. Kovner, R. Posen, J. Rashbaum, T. Doniger, E. Gumer

Junior year is undoubtedly the hardest and most hectic year of high school. It is the time to live, live, live, and the time to fight in the last ditch, all-out effort to raise that average before it is sitting under the cold nose of some stern college admissions officer. It is the year of the first class prom, but also the year of the P.S.A.T.'s, S.A.T.'s, National Merit tests, and college board achievements. It is the year that can't go by too quickly, and yet

The Class of 1968 can testify to both the grind and the fun of junior year. They went through the usual round of ulcers the last week of every quarter and butterflies in the stomach before every Saturday test. The picnic in the beginning of the school year followed the old tradition of being scheduled for a rainy day. The juniors were understandably hurt, but they managed to recover in time to create the eerie decorations for their class dance, which enticed students to "Come and get caught in our spider web." The party boasted the largest fake cake ever baked. After the cake crumbs were swept away and the cobwebs were wound up, preparations for the year's high point, the Junior Prom, began. A host of talented juniors turned out to create "A Knight's Night" for the prom which graced the month of April and the junior year.

SENIOR CLASS

Secretary Sandy Cohen, Vice-President Carol Simkin, and President Ricky Kaplan. Cheer up! It's almost over (Treasurer Ronnie Pearl couldn't even take it for this long.)

Though senior classes of past years have been plagued by severe "senior syndrome" and acute indifference, the Class of '67 has managed to survive, and quite admirably so. We have been able to entertain new and different ideas which have broadened the scope of senior class activities. However, none of this would have been possible without the help and enthusiasm of so many interested seniors who do not lack the ambition to carry these plans out. For the senior class is a unified body striving to accomplish its aims through cooperation and kinship, while at the same time practicing the procedures of parliamentary government and constitutional law. But class government is more than a party, dinner, beach day, and prom; it is an experience in life itself, in working with others and sharing common ideals. We sincerely hope that the influence of the Class of '67 will not terminate with graduation, but will continue to serve as a guideline for classes to come so that they, too, may experience the feelings of accomplishment and fulfillment which this year's class has felt.

To Laurel, there I can be the bridesmaid at yours & Paul's wedding! Glad we met - however it was! Probably, though Sherry or Lauri- bin deal! You're lucky you are a genius! Bio- speech! Hope you'll finish your book back on this, I hope probably get Oct 1983. Future success, (Sorry, I'm not in your class) LOVE U. Y.A. Joyce p.s. Don't be an old maid waiting for Paul. I don't worry about Paul. (he hates me, I'm kidding!) - In 10 yrs I predict you'll star in munim!

Dearest Laurel

I hope your career in drama is successful, and may it ~~be~~ give you love and fame.

Love Peter Seeger

P.S. I hope you learn how to memorize your lines

Dear Laurel,

There are so many many things we have shared together starting from Miss Kent's kindergarten class to Miss Schwarz's 1st grade — Mrs. Baudoin, Miss McDade, school picnics, numerous telephone calls, our first time at the theatre together (seeing Tony + being shy... us shy!!!) all the funny, bad, lousy, good times in high school. — there are just too many things to try to remember right now.

I have known you longer than anyone I know at school and all I can say is that though we'll be pursuing our separate careers from now on and going our own ways — may we continue to know each other and share more experiences.

I look forward (and I mean this very seriously) to the day when you've become famous on the stage and I can say to people, not Laurel Randall was my friend, but Laurel Randall is my friend. — forever!!!

The very very best of luck. Love

Marge
